Celebrating Jim Bugental & The Search for Authenticity

The Existential-Humanistic Institute (EHI), in collaboration with CIIS, honors the centenary of James F. T. Bugental's birth and the 50th anniversary of The Search for Authenticity.

EHI dedicates its 8th Annual Conference to Jim Bugental, a founder of Humanistic Psychology, co-founder of the Existential-Humanistic Institute, master Existential Therapist and pioneer of Transpersonal Psychology. In these sessions and panels, the presenters honor Jim as a strong advocate of experience-near psychotherapy, highlighting his recognition of inward sensing and the subjective experience of the individual. Such therapy emphasizes spontaneous engagement in the present moment, in the here and now.

This conference brings together a number of Jim's former students and associates, many of whom now are respected mentors, therapists and teachers themselves.

PRESENTED BY EHI & CIIS

The Existential-Humanistic Institute provides a forum, a "home", for those mental health professionals, scholars, and students who seek in-depth training in existential humanistic philosophy, practice, and inquiry. The Institute's primary focus is training, offering courses in existential-humanistic therapy and theory. EHI was formed as a program in 1977 as a program under the auspices of the nonprofit organization, Pacific Institute, a 501(c)(3). To find out more visit EHI's website: www.ehinstitute.org.

CIIS Public Programs & Performances is an extension of the California Institute of Integral Studies, a nonprofit university dedicated to personal and social transformation. The mission of CIIS Public Programs & Performances is to uplift and engage San Francisco Bay Area communities by offering a global showcase of performing arts and educational events.
